Facts and Political Opinions Clash US Engineers Bend Rules of Physics

Members of the Board of Central and Southern Florida Flood Control who have allowed two members' egotistical submissiveness and lack of information to perpetrate on injustice to Island landowners in the name of the whole board, may well contemplate the remarks following and the accompanying chart on page 12.

The Engineers themselves have kept records which must haunt them as often as they remember the professional opinions for political purposes, "the water levels in Lake Okechobee would have been higher without the dikes than with them."

The queries of Island landowners about "What is to happen to us" when plans were being discussed about building the original muck dike around the south and east sides of Lake are answered by the graph Refer to the line in 1922.

Standardization Of Records Begins At BG Hospital

Belle Glade Memorial Hospital now has a medical record librarian who is working jointly with that hospital and two other neighboring hospitals to organize a standard Medical Record Department.

Initial phases of the work will take five to six months to complete the standardization of charts and supplemental medical records on patients, and the efforts of Donald D. Parker, retiring administrator of the hospital, the services of Mrs. Beryl Ashmore have been secured for this work.

She comes to Belle Glade from W. T. Edwards Tuberculosis Hospital at Tallahassee, where she was head of the Medical Record Department. Mrs. Ruthanne Zimmerman, hospital secretary, will be trained to eventually take over the duties of record librarian.

Mrs. Ashmore will set up the department and train someone to carry on at each of the three hospitals in the Glades.

Through the work of a trained medical record librarian hospital records and statistics on disease and operations will be kept in accordance with the standard prescribed by the Florida State Board of Health and the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals.

The records, which will be kept 25 years on each patient, will contain diagnoses and findings of consultations and will be placed in sequence and be available for study and analysis. (Continued On Page Eight)

Rogers' Bill Provides Government Financing For Farm Labor Housing

Representative Emmet Roberts has returned from Washington where he collaborated with Congressman Paul Rogers in the preparation of a bill which was introduced by Rogers, to permit the granting of direct loans to farm and farmers associations for the purpose of furnishing housing for migrant agricultural labor.

The proposition is not a panacea for the housing ills of migratory farm labor, but is a step in the right direction. It will be of great benefit to those farmers and farm laborers who want to provide housing for labor, Mr. Roberts says. The proposition is not a give-away deal. Up to 90 per cent of the cost of this housing will be financed by direct loans and/or through insured loans just as Veterans and FHA housing is now insured.

Congressman Rogers reports that the bill has been referred to the Banking and Currency Committee, and he hopes to get it to Washington to meet with Mr. Hills of New York State and Mr. J. F. Dwyer of Pennsylvania and farm organization representatives.

These studies resulted in the suggestion to Paul Rogers that legislation be introduced to provide loans to farmers for housing on low interest rates for long periods. Mr. Rogers and Mr. Roberts took the suggestions of the Council's Committee and pre-

Directors are E. A. McCabe, Belle Glade, Owen Todd, Canal Point, Fraser, Pahokee, and Billy Rogers, South Bay.

Fraser, who was named vice-president, told secretary-treasurer, "Officers will serve terms until the organizations regular fall meeting, probably in October."

Alms and purposes for the year of the interest of the vegetable industry were discussed Wednesday. The directors urged that anyone connected with the vegetable industry be given an opportunity to join.

In order to have a better sense of cooperation from all connected, a membership meeting will be held next Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Pahokee Elks Club where a free steak dinner will be served.

Fraser announced that anyone planning to attend should call 3221 at Canal Point or 542 at Pahokee no later than Wednesday morning.

Revived Coffee Hour Is Deemed Successful Here

The first session of the revived Chamber of Commerce coffee hours was held March 27 at Bell's Restaurant where a small group heard a lively discussion of county, state and federal developments.

Speakers B. A. Roemer and Henry Earwood, with moderator, Emmett Roberts, provided a number of subjects which kept the guests in a discussion period past the one-hour time limit.

The next coffee hour, date still unsettled, will be sponsored by Florida National Bank at Belle Glade at which time it was planned that Congressman Paul Rogers would be guest speaker.

A subsequent hour will be sponsored by E. A. Lindrose, Equitable Life agent.

OUTTA SPACE Space Unit Is Due Here Soon

Here's some encouraging news. The full-scale preparation for the Belle Glade Lions' annual spring production which goes by the questionable title, "Chastabach Yoo Heo," is in session.

The date April 14-15 have been etched in solid stone (that's something you take for granite) in the heads of those responsible for this year's dramatic film hoping that folks will remember the dates for the production.

Hidden correspondents revealed that the extravaganza is a spoof of certain things (secret) currently popular. Pictures of the affair will be published as "teasers" to give the viewers some idea of what they may expect.

Athletic Banquet Held Wednesday

Over 100 persons attended a sports banquet at Belle Glade Elementary cafeteria Wednesday night for the annual South Florida Athletic Association banquet honoring high school athletes.

Players, coaches, cheerleaders and parents were present for the dinner and remarks by Bob Balfe, sports editor of the Palm Beach Post and Tom Gorman, pitcher with the Kansas City Athletics professional baseball team.

Head Coach Jim Maynor, in charge of the program, introduced Balfe who talked about sports participation and the importance of sports in their young lives.

He stressed the importance of a year-round sports program, not an over-emphasis of one sport in high school.

Recession? Building Permits Otherwise Here

New home construction permits issued in March showed the biggest upsurge since Jan. 1 as seven permits valued at $77,300 were handled at Belle Glade, according to Building Inspector W. L. Cunningham.

The only other major building project started in March was a $1,200 building structure owned by Seminole Supply Co., 407 S. Main St.

Total valuation for all permits issued last month was $87,425 which was a decrease from February's $283,127. The Belle Glade High School addition of $199,200 pushed the total to that figure; therefore, excluding the school permit, March valuation was actually an in general repairs and new building.

Permit valuation for the first three months of 1958 showed an increase of $114,363 over the same period in 1957. This year 89 permits totaled $440,787, while 138 permits (Continued On Page Eight)

Floyd Miller Is Superintendent At BG Memorial

38-year old Floyd Miller, Jr., WW II veteran and former executive of Keelock X-Ray of Chicago, has been named superintendent at Belle Glade Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient for one month.

Herbert Beck, chairman of the board, said Miller was a native of Birmingham, Ala. where he attended public schools. He also attended Southern Methodist University at Dallas, majoring in electrical engineering.

He has held executive positions with Western Electric Co., Westinghouse, the latter for about eight years. He has been associated with the Keelock X-ray plant for two years and one-half years.

Miller and his wife and two children, a girl, 13, and boy, 7, will live in the administrator's home at the hospital. He served as a tugmaster on a 26-foot tugboat and is a member of the 65-Mission Club of the Air Force.

Miller, who becomes the fourth administrator of the hospital since its inception as a public hospital, was chosen from at least five other applicants for the position, Beck said.

City Will Hear Differences On Sewer Rates April 9th

You are invited to the public hearing on April 9th, 8 p. m. at the City Hall so that you may air your views on the proposed sewerage system for the City, and concerning the rates to be charged.

Plans for a sewerage system for the entire city are in the hands of the State Board of Health for criticism and the final okay is expected any time.

Because of the problem of obtaining satisfactory City Fathers have decided that the economy of the community will better be served by installing only that part of the system that is most needed - from Avenue A on the north to Avenue E on the south, extending from Main Street to SW Tenth Street.

The small financial advisers have submitted a plan for operating a self-liquidating sewerage system. However, bond folks insist that the utility tax be pledged in addition to sewerage revenue.

If you have a one-family residence you pay $3.50 per month. Business units must pay $3.50 per month with allowance of 6,000 gallons of water; each additional thousand gallons per month increase the bill by $0.50.

Rigdon made it clear that this year's team was strong enough to bring honor to the city. The Ramblers will be, in effect, a traveling chamber of commerce for the city, said John N. Come to Church this Easter

Springtime and Easter herald the awaking of life in all the land as it should be in our hearts, a reviewing of hope, love and faith for ourselves, our families and all the world. Partake of these blessings offered to you this Holy Season.

Parable Of The Sower

"A sower went forth to sow." Thus began to unfold a secret—the secret of life, by a teacher standing in a boat gently adrift in quiet waters of an ancient lake. What was hidden within these words? The multitude on the shore strained in concentrated silence lest they miss his slightest breath.

Among those who listened were tillers of the soil. They knew what happened to seed that fell on rocks and into blemishes and other maws of death. And a good farmer did his best to plant his seed properly in good soil. But this was a strange sermon on this lake side, drawing kinship in plant and human life. Those souls who lived by the soil were stirred deep. This man was unlocking life's very mystery, for shining like the sun in the faces of the listeners was hope. At this Easter tide, the parable of the sower could have no deeper significance. For now is the time the sower goes forth again to observe his fields to see what is accomplished. This is spring! The cathedral of nature is incensed and flowers adorn its highest altar. Waters released from icy prison tumble in excited brooks and baptize an enchanted earth. Life is reborn from the cold sleep of winter's somber sepulcher. Comes the reward of faith!

The sower had sown in faith, holding ever in his heart the promise of spring that his seed would put forth its flower and would fruit in season. For it was pledged unto the seed from the humblest weed to the most majestic tree that life would spring anew after the mother plant had withered and died, but never perished. In the sacrament of the grave, flowers give testimony to the eternal quest beyond this place, what Forasmuch as nature has given new life to its own, even unto its least—would God do less for his children?

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read Matthew 28:1-8
They departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy; and did run to bring his disciples word. (Matthew 28:8.)

Had he been in Jerusalem that first Easter morning, we would have seen him to see two women running down the street. Their streaming hair, sweet-baked garments, wide eyes, and gasping breath would have expressed their haste.

Why would they be running? Somebody ill? Their house on fire? pursued? If asked, they would not have stopped, but breathlessly would have flung back the words, "The Lord is risen!"

They were given an important, urgent message. They ran with haste to deliver it.

We, too, have been entrusted with that same message—"Go quickly and tell." What are we to tell? "The Lord is risen." For all the ills of this world no balm is so healing, no news so cheering, no help so effective as this message that Jesus Christ lives and will live in us if we allow Him.

Like the women who ran, we must first meet the risen Christ whom we know.

PRAYER
O God—comfort us today with the presence of the living Christ. Impel us with the urgency of the good news that we may go quickly to bring others face to face with the living Christ. In His blessed name we pray. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

LDS Church In New Location, MIA Will Organize Tuesday

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints announced beginning Sunday with Easter, the services of the circuit learned of their progress during the past six months and were given helpful counsel relative to ways of bettering their preaching work.

The highlight of the affair was the public lecture delivered by J.W. Wilson, district director of the Southeast United States during the final session Sunday, 10:18 were in attendance for the climax of the convention.

Baptism services were held in Winter Haven as part of the Saturday program. 22 persons were immersed as a symbol of their dedication to God and intention to enter a life in the ministry.

The M. I. A. serves a most important function in the church, its main purpose is to provide, plan and supervise religious and recreational activities for the boys and girls groups and for all social activities of the M. I. A. for the record of achievement of this organization with the youth of the nation is widely known.

Perhaps one of its best known activities is that of the M.I.A. Basketball teams. This group presently holds the national record for the number of teams sponsored by one organization.

Here in the Glade we can certainly appreciate the tremendous need for a more wholesome constructive recreation for our young people. It is the sincere desire of each member of LDS Church to help fill this great vital need. Let it not be said of us, "That people who wander where there is this younger generation."

Passover Festival At Beth Shalom

One of the most important and elaborate of the Jewish festivals, the celebration of which begins between March and April and lasts seven days. Numerous theories have been advanced in explanation of its original significance, which has become obscured by its association with the Exodus it acquired in later days.

In pre-Mosaic days it may have been a spring festival only, but in its present observance by Jews who celebrate it in commemoration of their deliverance from the yoke of Egypt, that significance has been forgotten.

In the ceremonial evening meal (called Seder) which are served the first and second nights of the festival, symbolizing the hardships the Israelites went through during their bondage in Egypt, the narrative of the exodus is recited, and praise is given for their deliverance.

Only unleavened bread (matzo) may be eaten the eight days thru the festival, in memory of the fact that the Jews, hastening from Egypt, had no time to leave their bread. Tradition also requires that special sets of cooking utensils, dishes, etc., be used during the year by the use of these the Passover is celebrated from the Easter.

As this festival is a family affair, observed in the immediate family, Temple Beth Shalom will have a community seder in honor of the festival, to be held at the Temple Beth Shalom on Sunday evening at 5:30 p.m. on April 6, 1958. All members and guests are invited to attend.

Missionary Baptist Parsonage Completed

The new parsonage of the Missionary Baptist Church, of Chosen has been completed inside and a coat of paint has been applied to the outside. Elder Fred Robbins, pastor and family have recently moved into the new home.

The parsonage was constructed through the work and efforts of Messrs. Workman, Curtis Davidson, Bay Ashland and J.D. Brooks who donated their services during their own working hours. The church wishes to express their deep appreciation to these men for their work.

USEFULNESS

Usefulness is doing rightly by yourself and others.

BIBLE
THE RISEN CHRIST

By U. W. Malcolm

To know, to think, to feel, to long, to dream, is the abundant life just as we consider it in connection with Jesus. Without the fact of the risen Christ—life would be dull, flat, meaningless.

The resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead is more than a historical fact. It is in the lives of men. In Christ the believer is a risen man. "Be ye like I live, ye shall live also."

Unbelief died when Christ arose; they saw Him, touched Him, ate with Him, prayed together and then at last held Him ascend to His Heavenly glory, to prepare for their coming.

Millions have seen Him by faith since that resurrection day, though not in actual vision as Paul, the apostle, enjoyed yet the spiritual vision is just as vivid and real. Christ comes to dwell with us forever, to pardon sin, to cleanse the heart, to give victory over the world.

In the resurrected Christ there is power over sin, gloom, weakness, injustice, remorse, misunderstanding, and it is our desire to know Jesus and the power of His resurrection.

Thus today we may realize the tears, tomorrow we shall know the triumph. Today we may know earth's sorrow, tomorrow we shall know the joy; hence we view all the dead graves tomorrow we shall view the triumphal glow, and this all because of the power of Christ's resurrection.

Chamber Directors Vote Commendation To Their Port Committee Members

Directors of the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce voted a letter of commendation to their port committee for that group's work in planning and developing facilities at the river canal.

The directors felt that through the work of the port committee the site could be developed into an outstanding attraction.

The directors also agreed to continue a Glades educational survey to determine the merits of creating a summer school in the Glades to eliminate the necessity of students going to the coast for the same purpose.

The board instructed the executive secretary to write to the governor to ascertain the location here of any state-owned lands for industrial development.

Directors Poston, Tucker, Forsee, Mulberg, and Townsend discussed numerous other matters but took no action.

ACN Training Offered High School Graduates

Aviation Cadet Navigator training in now wide open to young men with a high school diploma, according to M/Sgt. John E. Salyer and T/Sgt. Joseph H. Bloxom, local Air Force recruiting sergeants.

This recent change in eligibility requirements points up the Air Force's need of qualified applicants for navigator training, the sergeants said. Applicants for pilot, however, must still meet the minimum educational requirement of two years college.

Successful completion of either navigator or pilot training, lasting approximately 14 months leads to an aeronautical rating and a commission as a 2nd Lieutenant in the Air Force.

Additional requirements are that the applicant be single, between the ages of 19 and 26 years, and be in good physical condition.

Young men interested in either phase of the aviation career program may obtain detailed information or apply at the local Air Force Recruiting office, Room 211, Post Office Building.

Check Trailers For Length Limit

Fla. Highway Patrol Comdr. H. N. Kirkman said today that any trailer which exceeds certain width and length limits is required by law to be equipped with automatic directional signals.

An increasing number of trailers on the highway, especially those used by boating enthusiasts, are not meeting requirements and are bristling at what he wants to call to their attention before enforcement begins.

Under Florida law a trailer should be equipped with directional signals if its width exceeds 16 inches from the center of the steering post to the extreme outside of its bed, body or load.

And, any trailer if the overall length from the center of the steering wheel to the rear of the bed, body or load is over 14 feet.

"Florida is a sportsman's state," said Kirkman, "and increasing numbers are bringing their boats into Florida to fish or enjoy our fine waters, while the number of homefolk who boat and fish is increasing, too. This means a traffic safety problem on which we will have to concentrate more and more."

After a preliminary warning period, enforcement of this law will be increased, Kirkman said.

Cancer Crusade Begins In County

"Fight Cancer with a Check" will again be the rallying cry of the Palm Beach County Cancer Crusade to be held during April.

The slogan is being used for a third successive year because it effectively expresses the double-barreled objective of the 1958 campaign, according to J. Alex Arnette, circuit court clerk and chairman of the Palm Beach County Cancer Crusade.

"Our annual fund raising drive is also an intensive educational effort," Arnette said.

"We have evidence that repetition of our life-saving slogan is paying off. Slowly, but surely, Americans are becoming cancer conscious and we are saving lives that might have been lost."

Last year, he said, some 250,000 Americans died of cancer and that number 75,000 could have been saved if cancers had been diagnosed and treated at an early stage.

Arnette pointed out that voluntary contributions, voluntary agencies and dedicated workers have been responsible for great research victories against disease since the turn of the century.

"Given time and money, cancer can be defeated as other diseases have been defeated," declared chairman Arnette declared.

"The long fight against polio that ended in the Salk vaccine is just one heartening example. I hope our good citizens here in Palm Beach County will be generous to our cause and help fight cancer 'with a check' and a check."

SILAGE TESTS (Continued from Page One) he done in the summer, but during the summer the cattle have a tendency to let their grass grow and the plan ahead for winter grazing and feeding.

"I know of one cattleman," Dr. Allen said, "who has spent $8,000 a month for two months and the better part of March. Only $9,000 would have put up most of the silage needed for the three-month period."

The preservatives now being tried include molasses and sodium meta-bisphosphate. These properties in the silage makes it more edible for longer periods of time.

Also under study is the use of a vinyl plastic covering bunker silos to prevent spoilage. Silage for station cattle has been used for nearly three years.

Speaking of the practicality of silos, Dr. Allen commented, "The beauty of the thing is, once the silo is up, the feeding problem is over."

The USDA announced this week that it had indefinitely extended the farm storage facility and mobile dryer loan programs. These programs are designed to help farmers throughout the country obtain needed farm storage by providing loans for a large part of the cost of additional farm storage space.

Sam Schooley, acting county office manager for ASC, said Tuesday that apparently the provisions of this program apply to grass silage storage structures although grass was not specifically listed in USDA's original press release.

These loans are five-year, four-percent negotiations and payment begins on the first anniversary of the loan to be completed in four payments. Farmers and ranchers in states can borrow up to 80 percent of the cost of new structures.

City Will Hear (Continued from Page One) plumbing, and pay the City $10 for the privilege. If you wait until after the original construction the City wants $25 for the privilege.

If you are within 200 feet of a service line you have 90 days after the plant is put into operation to make connection, you're liable to a $100 fine.

If you don't pay your sewerage bill within ten days of billing, you will have your water cut off.

Plans are proceeding to issue $500,000 worth of bonds to install this system.

If the Republicans get as generous with their support as they have been with 'furnish' in the give-away program, maybe they'll pass a bill to lend on long terms at low rate of interest, or maybe give us something to add to the 'bottled' system. If so, your City Fathers are 'sitting on ready'.

If you don't like the present plan, the system of charges, or the rate of interest, or the fee to be paid to the 'fiscal agent' or anybody else, then show up Wednesday, the 9th, at the City Hall and indulge in the 'great American Past' time" of "having your say." They may not like it, but the City Fathers have agreed to listen to you and try to exclude the "whirl of everything connected with the plan."

Just as a starter for your consideration: There's a family of six with two bath rooms and consequent heavy use of the system from both the kitchen and the laundry room, and the two bath rooms; they pay $3.50.

On the other hand, there's a young bedroom apartment occupied by an amebic old maid who eats out, has her laundry out, she pays $3.50. There might be an argument for her to get married and have a big family.

In accordance with the Colonial Southern Plantation theme, the sophomore girls who served at the banquet were dressed as little southern maids with checkered dresses, matching bonnets, and white organdy aprons.

The boys were dressed in dungarees, shirts that matched the girls' dresses, straw hats and suspenders.

They served a typical southern dinner of heaping portions of tomato juice, fried chicken, potatoes in a hot jacket, string beans, corn, celery, pickles, olives, rolls and butter, deep apple pie a-la-mode, iced tea, mints and nuts.

Special guests introduced at the banquet by principal F. O. Hobson included Mr. Howell Watkins, Palm Beach County Superintendent of schools, and his wife. The invocation was offered by Vincent Marquess, one of the junior class sponsors.

The welcome to seniors was given by the junior class president, Jeff Thomas and the response was given by the senior class president, Charles Schoenfeld.

Fun and games and prizes were provided by Miss Molly Forsee who sang a medley of songs of the South with accompaniment at the piano by Miss Judy Weathers. The banquet ceased with a hearty group rendition of the junior class song "Dixie."

The prom was held in the high school gym which had been transferred into a detailed replica of the outside view of a southern plantation surrounded by a beautiful garden in the center of which was a lovely pond with a weeping willow growing beside it. On one side there was a brick wall covered with a vine on which gay flowers bloomed in profusion.

This was the background for the orchestra and the tree swing which no plantation would ever be caught without. It was a place frequently visited by the young country gentleman and his fair lady.

The prom began with the grand march of the juniors and seniors. The "Southern Belles," Susie Hemphill and Frances Fontaine, sang several of the romantic melodies of the old south, accompanied on the piano by Mr. Fred Stevens.

After the Prom the group enjoyed a movie at the Hippodrome and then ate a heavenly breakfast of ham, scrambled eggs, grits and butter, hot rolls, jelly and milk, orange juice, and coffee. The movie and breakfast were provided by the Rotary Club.

Although you might think that by this time they would be too tired to move, they were still rarin' to go. So, many of them spent the whole day Saturday on the Beach in West Palm Beach and if you have seen some of them with one white side and one red side it's because the sandman slipped up on them while they were lying in the sun. Thus the top side cooked and the bottom side cooled.

Thanks to all who helped to make this "An Affair To Remember."

Chamber Urges Buying Spree

Believing that prosperity is just around the corner and practically starting us in the new year, the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce is leading a merchant's campaign to stimulate more store purchases in Belle Glade.

The chamber's program slogan, "Sales Men Jobs—Buy Something New," is catching on. As a comment made by Agriculture Commissioner Nathan Mayo, who has been a frequent visitor to the Glades thru the years, went something like this:

"This area (the Glades) can recover the fastest from disaster of any I've ever seen." There's every indication that the Glades area is about to boom again. Can't keep a good town down!

We can do a lot to help ourselves if, first we get our thinking straight and keep our optimism oozing. We're all just better off than we realize.

Building the backbone of a national economy shows an increase here. That shopping center at 2nd St. is still "a-comin'." New service stations, too.

Most groceries are jam-packed Friday— and Saturday nights. Other stores where they admit it or not, are making sales. Those customers handing money to the clerks aren't making donations.

Look through The Herald this week. Our merchants have things to sell. It's Easter again. At a time when the greatest story of hope the world has ever known is retold, here's a chance to brighten your outlook.

While you're topped up in your Easter threads, phone for an appointment at Larick's Photo Shop for a portrait.

Jack Royals' Western Auto has something big planned. Listen to WSWF for details.

Florist in the area have a splendid selection of flowers for Easter. Remember—Scarborough's Dept. Store is having a full-fledged Easter sale with bargains crammed everywhere. Stop in.

Proof that Belle Glade is the heart of the Glades is again confirmed by reliable sources that following Kahn's big close-out in Pahokee, Kahn's at Belle Glade will be enlarged to house the entire operation.

Hendry Tractor Co., which will revamp their new home on Palm Beach Rd., will be offering special soon. Joe Hendry is fixing up office and shop and this is a big week for commotion out there.

The little Country Store on Palm Beach Rd. has taken on a new look under the ownership of Mr. Crews, former operator of the O.K. Market on 4th St. He's open 5 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily, and he's entitled to make a living, along with the rest of us. Stop by and shop and visit with one of our city's new neighbors. He's open Sundays, too.

Recession? Well, frankly the chamber of commerce learned that sales were off from last year, but what goes up must come down anyway. We're in a leveling off period, not a crash. Support your merchants now, and they'll support you by furnishing quality products and service.

The standardization of the hospital affairs is moving with great satisfaction toward this goal, a hospital spokesman said. Doctors of the hospital staff are cooperating in helping to achieve their part of these records. Dr. J. Allen Baker, chief of the medical staff, and other members, Dr. R. W. Brown, vice chairman; Dr. W. O. Norville, secretary treasurer; Dr. S. J. Simmons and Dr. W. White, active members, and Dr. E. O. Herried, Jr., associate member, are providing full support.

Utilization of the records department will be possible when the monthly staff meetings are held where medical care of patients is reviewed and through discussion, their own medical knowledge is advanced, as well as the correction and expansion of policies within the hospital.

Largest amount of rain measured in a single day in March this year was 2.98 on March 28.

Temperatures averaged about normal with only slight variations one or two degrees up or down from the 30-year average. February's coldest day was 28 recorded at the experiment station, one degree higher than the coldest February day on record. It was 27 degrees on Feb. 6, 1947.

The records show that the most rain to fall in any March since 1947 was 10.97 in 1947. The worst fall ever measured at the station was a 24.11 in June of 1942.

Pump Station S-3 Now Operating

Acceptance of Pump Station S-3 by the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District for maintenance and operation on Monday will bring the total number of pump stations in the district to six, according to Executive Director Solimar F. Hyde, Jr.

Located at the confluence of Lake Okechobee and the Miami Canal into Lake Okechobee, the pump station, from an area 129 miles square. Three vertical pumps capable of moving more than one and one-half billion gallons of water every 24 hours pump water out of the Miami Canal into Lake Okechobee. When required, water can be let out of the lake into the canal through the adjacent hurricane gate.

The pump station, constructed under the supervision of the Corps of Engineers, is the sixth such structure to be accepted for maintenance and operation under the 1958 season. Flood conservation and flood control in central and southern Florida by the Flood Control District.

Rams Nurse 3-3 Season After Diamond Loss

The Ft. Pierce Eagles got 13 hits off two pitchers to triumph the Rams of Belle Glade High 13-1 at Ft. Pierce Tuesday. Bob Knowles of the Eagles pitched a one-hitter.

Howard Roberts got the only hit, a single in the 5th, to spoil Knowles' perfect game. Knowles fanned 14 and walked six. John Thomas, who took the loss, was relieved in the third frame by Butch Buss. The Rams stand 3-3 in the diamond season now.

Top Sales Reported On Girl Scout Cookies

The Girl Scout Cookie Sale in Belle Glade this year is the largest ever held according to incomplete figures obtainable early this week from Mrs. James A. Ball, Jr., chairman who has served two consecutive years.

One hundred seventy cartons each holding 12 boxes of cookies were sold this year, compared to last year's 105 cartons, which had the high point in sales until this year.

Profits from the sales are earmarked for development of the Girl Scout Camp, which will be located in a 600 acre section of Jonathan Dickson State Park in Jupiter. The camp, according to plans will be developed and ready for the 1959 season. Mrs. Ted Zent of West Palm Beach is the chairman of camp development committee.

Weekend Scout Session Enjoyed By Darry Wood

Darry Wood, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wood, Jr., was one of the Boy Scouts of the area honored by attending a weekend session of "Order of Arrow" at Echochockee Lodge near Jacksonville.

TELEPHONE BRASS visits the Glades: C. J. Yates (l.) Vice President and General Manager of Southern Bell in Florida was his second in President of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce on a recent visit to Belle Glade. Yates' associates, John Evans, Commercial Manager; and John Cooper, Division Commercial Manager of Southern Bell were most favorably impressed with the Glades. "Your community is a real live unit of our work instead of merely a set of figures, as it has been," one of the visitors remarked. Ed Reddy, district manager at West Palm Beach seemed proud to show his bosses his most talkative "country cousin," who rings the cash register bell for Southern Bell vigorously.

Our Juvenile Courts Need Time To Improve Their Effectiveness

By Gene Duncan
Assistant Juvenile Counselor

My last article was largely critical of some elements of law enforcement relating to my work. It is only fair, therefore, to air some of their complaints of our court and my work.

During the past twelve months several officers have come to me (most of them in good faith) to offer their criticism. From their remarks and suggestions I have gathered a few main points which I shall mention today.

Up to this time I have made no systematic efforts to notify the referring law officer of the disposition made in his case. This is a fault which is being presently corrected. It is a point of praise to the officer to want to know what happened to the case he investigated and turned over to me.

I now inform each officer of what was done and explain why it was done in that particular manner. When I fail to let the officer know what has been done, he may believe that we have taken no action at all on what he probably felt was a good case.

This is probably one contributing factor to misunderstanding between the court and the law agencies. Not only should I tell him of what was done, but I should outline to him what I plan to do as soon as I have studied the case. In many instances it is necessary to postpone action on a complaint pending further developments. If so, I should inform the officer so that he will not feel that I have neglected it.

Some officers feel that our court is too lenient with the child and that his own "bawling out" will have more effect than our action.

This goes back to a matter of opinion because we have officers at the other extreme who feel that we deal too harshly with a child and therefore warp his character and produce an almost incurable psychological insecurity or create an undesirable attitude in the child. Our court is not infallible, but we do have a certain defined job to do and since we operate on the philosophy of correction rather than punishment, I feel that we must act on each case as we best see fit.

The law officer should not deny the delinquent child the right to our services anymore than he would deny medical care for a physically sick child. He may not be in agreement with our methods (and he may well be justified in feeling this way in many cases), but nevertheless we do the best we can with the facilities we have.

In many cases the officers "bawling out" or talk with the youngster will have the desired effect and I would take no further action. But I want to be made aware of what has happened and I shall continue to give much consideration to the recommendations of the officer for either further action or no further action in his case. In order to maintain a complete picture, however, I should be told of each offense.

One good question asked by an officer once was this: "Why are different sentences meted out for identical crimes?" particularly when several boys are involved in the same offense? I plan to answer this more completely in later articles dealing with court sentences, but I can say briefly that when I make a recommendation to the court for disposition of a case I have considered much more than just the crime.

I have given much thought and consideration to the boy's past record, his home environment, his family situation, his school record, his influence on other children, etc. Careful studies are made in each case before sentence is passed.

In concluding this article I am not apologizing for not being infallible, because I am human. I am, however, aware of many shortcomings which can be corrected, and with these corrections we hope for better service for the youngsters of our country.

Girl Scout Fund Drive Is April 14

(Editor's Note: This is part one of a two-part article describing the need for funds for the operation of the Palm Glades Girl Scout Council. Next week the use of funds will be explained.)

The annual drive to raise Belle Glade's share of the 1958 operating budget of the Palm Glades Girl Scout Council will open April 14 and will run for two weeks. This year's Council operating budget totals $28,650 and Belle Glade's share of this is $1000. This is an increase over last year's budget and reflects an increase in girl membership in the Council of about 1000 this year, and a local increase of about 100 per cent since the formation of the Council two years ago.

One of the major items in this budget provides for the employment of a third professional worker to serve the increased number of leaders required to serve the larger number of girls.

R. J. Allen, Jr., Fund Drive Chairman for all non-Community Chest communities in the Council, who will also serve as chairman for Belle Glades drive, stated that those who are familiar with the Girl Scout program realize that full value is received for every dollar required to operate the Council.

Facts And Political
Haven (refer to high mark in fall of 1928).
The dike was repaired again,

following the Moore Haven destruction and the water rose to near the same level to be broken by the 1928 hurricane around the south and east side of the Lake. Some 3,000 deaths by drowning mostly on the mainland, should be proof that the Islanders contention before the dike was built, was, and is correct. It is an acknowledged fact that the drownings came about because of the piling up of water against the dikes and the water's sudden bursting of the dikes with consequent deluge of a 10 to 12 foot wall of water on unsuspecting residents.

In 1947 extreme height of Lake Okeechobee level runs off the graph, and again in 1948 the level threatens the 18-foot MSL level. It was during the time that the lashing of the waves shook the confidence of the designers in the stability of the present dikes to hold hurricane waters.
In 1950 the 18-foot level was again threatened, and in 1958 it was headed off short of that point.

The politically-minded engineering opinions of Jacksonville have little respect for laws of physics. They refer to outlets - St. Lucie and the Caloosahatchee - and in the same breath admit that they are inadequate for control, if used. Then they tell you they open both these outlets with consideration for the folks at Stuart and Ft. Myers.

They say facilities are not sufficient for control of the Lake if 100 per cent efficient and used when control of the lake level is the consideration (that's why both were built) and then tell you that they have not been used with full control as the major consideration.

Mrs. Winnie says "Our quarrel with the flood control people is not, and never has been because of their desire to provide protection for the mainland. But, any upright, decent thinking person would feel as we do, and always have, that since our islands were doomed to be sacrificed or the mainland's protection we should receive a fair value or our land."

Powder Urges Polio Shots For Youth
State Health Officer, Wilson Powder, has expressed concern at public complacency over the polio situation, and issued a warning that parents would have to consider themselves to blame if their children contracted the disease, since almost sure protection by immunization is available.

Sowder stated, "Children who have not had the polio shots are in just as much danger of contracting the disease as ever before. If three properly spaced injections have been received, approximately 70 per cent protection against paralytic polio is available."

"The duration of this protection is presently unknown and in the meantime some physicians are recommending yearly boosters although there are at present no official recommendations on this question."

If an unimmunized child contracts paralytic polio this year the parents must accept the blame for not obtaining for the child the protection that would in all probability have prevented the disease."

Last year only 137 cases of polio were reported in Florida compared to 1954 when the vaccine was not available when there were 1,777 cases, 893 of them paralytic.

State And Federal Control Officers Urge That Rice Not Be Planted Now

If Lake Okeechobee farmers abide by a request for cooperation made by state and federal plant control officials, the only rice to be planted this year will be for experimental purposes. The plea that rice farmers refrain from planting this season was issued yesterday by G. G. Rohwer, area supervisor in charge for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and W. G. Cowperthwaite, commissioner for the State Plant Board of Florida. The two plant pest control agencies currently are engaged in a program aimed at eradication of the white leaf virus - of rice known as "hoja blanca." The virus was discovered for the first time in North America last summer with the detection of several fields of diseased rice in the Belle Glade area. Experts who examined the Florida fields recommended an immediate eradication program which would keep the virus from spreading to the huge commercial fields of Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas. The method of spraying the affected areas with an insecticide which would eliminate a leafhopper thought to be carrier of the virus, and then plowing under all the rice plantings.

The only rice presently grown in the Lake Okeechobee area is in a few small test plots at the Everglades Experiment Station. If the virus still exists and infests the planted rice, the indicator plots will be destroyed.

In asking farmers to forget plans to plant rice this season, Cowperthwaite declared, that success of the eradication program depended on the type of cooperation.

"We want to make certain that the hoja blanca virus is completely eradicated in Florida before returning to commercial plantings," he said. "The sooner we have made certain the virus has been wiped out, the sooner we can permit planting."

Rohwer said that production of commercial rice in Cuba, Panama and Venezuela has been cut as much as 75 per cent by the virus.

SRD Co-operates With Archaeologists Who Study State's History
Cooperation between the State Road Department and the Florida archaeologists is helping to piece together the jigsaw puzzle of the state's earliest inhabitants who lived here over 3,000 years ago.

A road Department convict crew directed by Ripley P. Bullen, curator of Social Sciences of the University of Florida, has unearthed 8,000 year-old sherds of pottery, many stone tools, and a great amount of data at an excavation on the new right of way of U.S. Highway 441 on the south side of

Payne's Prairie in Alachua County. Reporting to Dr. William H. Sears, of the Florida State Museum, chairman of the Florida Committee for Highway Archaeological Salvage Bulletin wrote: "The site appears to have been used by Indians, intermittently, from around 4,000 B. C. to about A. D. 1500, or over some 3,000 years."

"I believe our committee and the State Road Department are to be congratulated for making possible the salvaging of this data."

The State Road Board about two years ago agreed to cooperate by notifying the archaeological committee where new roads are to be built. After preliminary investigation, the committee could plan excavations to retrieve relics of Florida's primitive inhabitants before the bulldozers and road graders destroyed them forever.
